

Technology in Finance, Law and Regulation

Date: Thursday 16th May 2019

Organisers: Jon Danielsson (SRC, LSE Finance), Eva Micheler (SRC, LSE Law)

Venue: Conference suite, 9th floor, Pankhurst House, Clement's Inn, LSE, London WC2A 2AZ

08.45 – 09.15	Registration and refreshments
09.15 – 10.15	Central bank digital currencies and payment systems
	Accounts, tokens and e-money Francisco Rivadeneyra (Bank of Canada)
	Settling cross-border payments between Israel and the West Bank over a distributed ledger system Priscilla Toffano (IMF) and Kathy Yuan (LSE)
10.15 – 11.15	Currencies and property law
	Cryptocurrencies in the common law of property David Fox (University of Edinburgh)
	Cryptocurrencies and intermediation Matteo Solinas (Victoria University of Wellington)
11.15 – 11.30	Coffee break
11.30 – 12.30	Regulation and financial innovation (part 1)
	Regulatory obstacles to financial innovation – the view from the EU Philipp Paech (LSE)
	Regulating tokens – opportunities and risks Iris Chiu (UCL)
12.30 – 13.30	Lunch
13.30 – 14.30	Regulation and financial innovation (part 2)
	Smart contracts: risks, rewards and regulation Anna Donovan (UCL)
	FinTech, financial inclusion and sustainable finance Dirk Zetsche (University of Luxembourg)
14.30 – 14.45	Coffee break

14.45 – 16.15	Regulatory technology
	Technology for regulation – gazing into the crystal ball Tomaso Aste (UCL)
	Experiments in regulatory technologies Jonathan Liebenau (LSE) and Daniel Gozman (University of Sydney Business School)
	Regulatory technology – replacing law with computer code Eva Micheler (LSE)
16.15 – 16.30	Coffee break
16.30 – 17.30	Artificial intelligence
	Artificial intelligence and the law Andrew Murray (LSE)
	Artificial intelligence, financial risk management and systemic risk Jon Danielsson, Robert Macrae, Andreas Uthemann (LSE)
17.30 – 18.30	Drinks and nibbles reception

Free WiFi: Select “The Cloud” from the network list. Open your browser and follow instructions to register/log on.